

That's the way Will Ready lives his life. No excuses, no regrets and no looking back! Will's approach to success has everything to do with perfection, his love of music, writing and a strong Will to ensure he arrives at his destination Ready for any obstacle he may need to face.

Will's story reflects his love of basketball, his admiration of pioneers in the music business and a small twist of fate that sidelined him from basketball and placed him on the path of melodies and music. At 6'4, Will's presence is hard to miss. It seemed natural that basketball would be part of his life, when a devastating knee injury ended his college basketball career, and propelled him into the entertainment industry. Will's full service music business, known as Ready Music Group (RMG), is built for successful entrepreneurship. Will believes his injury was a blessing in disguise --- a blessing he capitalized on through his music and keen business savvy.

Will is the total package Smooth R&B, Soul, entertainer. His quests has landed him on the international radar with welcoming fans in Europe, Japan and the Caribbean. Will has opened shows for music legends such as Chaka Khan, The Temptations, The Whispers, Al Jarreau, Zapp, Midnight Star, Slave, and Howard Hewitt to name a few.

Recording and performing professionally for over 20 years, Will has released 6 CDs. His latest album "Black Coffee," is scheduled for release in spring 2019. "One Night Stand," a single on the "Black Coffee" cd, is receiving air play domestically and internationally, and won best RnB song at GHP Virtual Music Awards!

Will attributes his silky seductive style to his love of R&B, Soul, Jazz artists such as Maze Featuring Frankie Beverly, Maxwell, Baby Face, Luther Vandross, Keith Sweat, Ron Isley, and Charlie Wilson. Ready or not, Will has the soulful sound of a balladeer whose focus is to please and tease.

Not only is Will Ready a talented artist, he's also a professional actor with film credits! Will Ready is excited about his upcoming role as Detective Omar Patton in the new J. Mark Eiden/45th Parallel Production Film, "Fork"!
